

Donate to the Brazos Valley Youth String Chamber Orchestra Program

At BVYSCO, we are not just teaching kids to play music. We are building something bigger, together with their families. String instruments demand discipline, collaboration, and confidence. None of this is possible without outstanding music instruction, and the dedicated partnership of parents and guardians who show up, ask questions, and stay engaged in their children's learning. We know how much it takes to support a young musician. This is why BVYSCO exists. Not just for students, but for the families who support them. We work side by side with parents, teaching them the same instrument their child is learning to create an environment for participants that is challenging, joyful, and deeply supportive—on stage and at home.

Our mission is simple:

Our mission is to empower young musicians by providing high-quality ensemble training that fosters artistic excellence, personal development, and a sustained passion for music. We envision a Brazos Valley where all students, and their families, regardless of their financial circumstances, can experience the transformative influence of music within a supportive, stimulating, and community-focused setting.

Why Your Donation Matters

BVYSCO is powered by values we live every day:

- 🎵 Accessibility – Talent should never be limited by zip code or family income
- 🎵 Excellence – Students rise to meet high expectations when given the right tools
- 🎵 Community – Music is meant to be shared across generations and neighborhoods
- 🎵 Support – Behind every young musician is a parent doing their best to show up and a music teacher continuing to strive for excellence.

Your donation helps us:

- Keep tuition low and provide financial aid where needed
- Purchase music for all orchestras in the program
- Hire exceptional instructors
- Bring in local, national and world renowned musicians and performers

Your donation to the BVYSCO signals a deep commitment to youth development, the arts, and a stronger local community. Our values—accessability, growth and excellence—align with what businesses and foundations strive to champion.
